BENZENE TOXICITY

Environmental Alert

- Benzene is an important commercial commodity that, because of its frequent use, has become widespread in the environment of developed countries.
- In the United States, gasoline contains up to 2% benzene by volume; in other countries, the benzene concentration in gasoline may be as high as 5%.
- Benzene in the workplace has been associated with aplastic anemia and leukemia.

This monograph is one in a series of self-instructional publications designed to increase the primary care provider's knowledge of hazardous substances in the environment and to aid in the evaluation of potential health effects on patients. This course is available on the ATSDR Web site at <http://www.atsdr.cdc.gov/HEC/CSEM/>. See http://www.atsdr.cdc.gov/HEC/CSEM/ for information about continuing education credits, contact information, and other resources.
